Course customisation

Beyond branding

With powerful features that simplify course editing, Catalyst Design allows you to transform LRN's award-winning library content into courses that look as if they were tailor-made for your organisation. The easy-to-use functionality gives you the creative control to efficiently and effectively personalise your compliance training courses.

Be agile

No ticketing system or technical knowledge needed. Catalyst Design is quick to learn and allows you to control course content.

Save time

Reduce administration headaches with functionality that allows you to preview changes and transport customisations to new and updated versions of courses.

Tailor training

Incorporating adaptive learning functionality allows you to reduce classroom time, increase relevance and encourage course completion.

Engage learners

No one knows your learners better than you. Adjust courses to incorporate your brand and content to enhance the learning experience.

Get the best of both worlds: the ease of courses from the award-winning library and content that you can customise as you wish.

Easily create unique experiences with self-service customisations.

- Use the intuitive self-service customisation tools (no designer required) to create courses that look, feel AND sound like your organisation.
- Tailor training with adaptive learning capabilities that increase relevance and reduce classroom time.
- Edit course content to create learning that suits your employees.
- Ensure that customisations are exactly as you want them and reduce administrative headaches with convenient and time-saving tools.

Edit course elements like...
